download You can use your existing USB flash drive (or whatever you may have) if you do not have the space for the above files in your flash drive. The files above are the ones that you need and if you are following the above instructions, you already have these files so you can skip this step. Here is the process you will be using to transfer these files to your drive. 1) Insert the flash drive into your computer. It is very important to make sure that you do not unplug the flash drive while you are doing this. 2) Then, go to "My Computer". There is a floppy disk icon on the top left side of the "My Computer" window. You will notice that there are three icons that look like a floppy disk. 3) Click on the icon with the drive letter H: on the top left. This will take you to the "My Computer" folder. Now, click on the folder named "E:". 4) Next, click on the "start button" in the top left corner. This will bring up a window that says "start up folder". 5) Click on the second option from the top left (the one that says "My Documents"). This will bring you to a folder that is stored on your computer. Now, click on the folder that says "boot". 6) Next, click on the "start button" and wait. A second later, you will see a window that says "Select the drive or volume that you want to boot from" and it will have a list of your drives. 7) Click on the "USB Drive" button. This is the one that looks like an upside down floppy disk. Your flash drive should be selected on this window. If it is not, then select it and click on OK. 8) Next, click on the "next" button. This will take you to the next window that says "Choose the operating system to start". 9) Here, you can select any operating system that you want to use. Click on the "Next" button. 10) Now, wait for the Windows 7 system to start up and when you get to the desktop, you are done. If you want to make a copy of the files that you downloaded, you can simply click on the "start menu" button on the top left corner of the screen. This will bring up a list of all of the programs and 82157476af
